COLLABORATIVE ALLIANCES: BUILDING A SUSTAINABLE BUSINESS

Along with the launch of the Singapore’s Industry Transformation Maps are initiatives for deepening partnerships between industry and government and among industry players. In addition there are supports for industry to acquire cutting edge technological empowerment as well as research and development capability to stay ahead of the curve. The recent rallying call for convergence of sectors, clustering of industries and capitalizing on synergies suggest an imperative that demanded a new mind-set towards organizing resources, scaling up and internationalizing to engage the future global economy.
